Prof. Yan FENG

Soochow University, China

Professor Feng received his PhD from the University of Iowa in US, then he worked as a Director's Postdoc Fellow in Los Alamos National Laboratory before starting his faculty position in Soochow University in China. As the first author (also the correspondence author) of four PRL papers on topics related to this invited talk, Professor Feng has considerable experience as a speaker. This talk will be of interest to not only the dusty plasma community, but also the broader communities strongly coupled plasmas and warm dense matter.
